Description

Listed by Charlea Svenson, Engel & Völkers Black Hills, 605.545.5605. Surprisingly spacious on the inside! This charming ranch-style home is full of character and offers an incredible amount of living space. From the covered front porch, step inside to a welcoming living room with a comfortable, inviting feel. The main level features three bedrooms, including a primary bedroom with private access to the shared full bathroom. The kitchen offers plenty of cabinetry and built-in storage, while the adjoining dining room provides a wonderful gathering space for family and friends. Just beyond the dining room, the spacious family room offers another place to relax and enjoy the home, with convenient access to the fenced backyard and back deck. A half bath is tucked conveniently nearby. The 12x22 attached garage is an added bonus, providing plenty of room for parking, projects, and storage. But the space doesn’t stop there! The lower level features a large 16x26 family room with built-in cabinetry and kitchenette potential, a fourth bedroom (NTC), second full bathroom, storage room, workshop, and laundry area. One of the things that makes this home special is how much it offers once you step inside. There are multiple living spaces, plenty of room to spread out, and countless possibilities to make the home your own. All major appliances and a nice sauna are included with the sale! Conveniently located near shopping, schools and medical services, this is a home with plenty of space, character, and so much potential. Come inside and see just how much this home has to offer!
